

Caution Urged with Pre-Brachytherapy AST (Androgen Suppression Therapy) aka Androgen Deprivation Therapy (ADT)

From the May 2009 Issue of Renal and Urology News:

AST/ADT is often prescribed to shrink the size of an enlarged prostate prior to Brachytherapy; not necessarily to improve prostate cancer prognosis. The key concern in this article regards those men with pre-existing cardiovascular disease (CVD)

<http://www.renalandurologynews.com/Caution-Urged-with-Prebrachytherapy-AST/article/136071/>

If does not open, try <http://tinyurl.com/cb6mza>